

Dele and Alan Gilmore Scholarship

Helping young people move forward in their education

Who were Dele and Alan Gilmore?

As teachers Dele and Alan Gilmore dedicated their life to helping young people achieve both academically and socially. Through personal experience they came to understand the value of keeping families together during a child's serious illness and this led them to become founding members of the committee that established the Ronald McDonald House at John Hunter Children's Hospital, Newcastle.

What is the Dele and Alan Gilmore Scholarship about?

In keeping with Dele and Alan's passion to educate and help the local community, in particular young people who have been impacted by illness, the Dele and Alan Gilmore Scholarship has been established.

By awarding one-off grants totalling a maximum of $5,000 per year to deserving young people, we hope to give them the chance to get their education back on track. Whether the money goes towards school fees, extracurricular activities, books or supplies, the Scholarship is there to help them succeed.
